press release
SUMMER/FALL 2011

“This is what rock and roll music will sound like in Heaven!”

—Garry Jones, President of Full Sail University

ANNOUNCING: The RockNRoll Chorus is expanding! Due to overwhelming interest, The RockNRoll Chorus will be announcing satellite training facilities in North Jersey and South Jersey for talented high school-aged singers who want to improve their vocal and performance skills - and maybe have a chance to audition for next year’s RockNRoll Chorus NATIONAL TOUR CAST! More information can be found at www.rocknrollchorus.com and www.facebook.com/rocknrollchorus about auditions, schedules, features and benefits for these casting opportunities.

GENERAL: You’ll swear there’s a band, but this talented group does it all voices-only; all your favorites, with a new edge. New Jersey-based vocal band, The RockNRoll Chorus (RNRC), has just returned from their 2011 Summer Tour which included shows in Chicago, Nashville, Cleveland, Orlando, Charleston, Wilmington, Baltimore, Atlantic City, New York, and of course, The Jersey Shore. Directed by Joe Cantaffa, and coached by Fredi Walker-Browne (RENT, The Lion King), Eric Thompson, Mary Huhmann, Jessica Pomeroy, Zoe Makofske, and Security Director Gary Schiavone (Bruce Springsteen, So You Think You Can Dance, Crosby Stills & Nash, Light Of Day) and many other talented staff, these young professionals perform a high energy, full-tilt rock show with a focus on healthy vocal technique and high production values. The cast and student staff/crew learn the ropes of the music business, touring, production, and recording along the way. Webisodes that follow their amazing journey can be found on www.rocknrollchorus.com or on The RockNRoll Chorus’ very own YouTube channel. This fall The RockNRoll Chorus will release their first-ever live concert DVD, “The RockNRoll Chorus at Full Sail Live.” The RockNRoll Chorus—no instruments, just voices.
